"Through Duty to Glory"

Mr. R. P. Jagota

Her sincerity, earnest commitment and extreme humility have set exemplary standards for all to follow. She has been the constant inspiration and motivating force. Her constant unstinting devotion and love for children is the school main strength.

Mrs. Saroj Jagota

From Director's pen

"Education is not what makes you great... but one that makes you humble"

Our goal is to change the world through education. It may sound idealistic, but this is precisely our mission. It is what motivates the work of everyone at the Springdale College — from parents and staff, to students and to our supporters. It inspires our teaching. It fuels our work with teachers, principals, and leaders in education.

We are driven by the belief that every child deserves a high-quality education and that educational opportunity is a basic human right. Regardless of where a child is born, who his parents are or whether she sleeps in a mansion or a shelter: that child deserves a high-quality education. Providing ample educational opportunities is one of the most fundamental obligations each generation owes to the ones that follow.

We are witnessing an intersection of great challenge and great opportunity. At the moment, far too many students lack access to a high-quality education; still others are unable to achieve their full potential. At the same time, we have tools available today that were unimaginable a generation ago, in the form of learning technologies and new insights into how the brain develops and functions, which together could change the very nature of teaching and learning.

Education also has the full attention of the world. All across the globe, individuals, organizations, and governments recognize that education is the defining issue of our time, crucial to everything from personal opportunity and social mobility to world peace and prosperity. And there is a fierce hunger for reliable evidence about what works, creative solutions to long-standing problems, and strong leaders who can enact transformational change in schools and school systems. That is the opportunity.

With a tradition of leadership and innovation nearly forty years long, Springdale College is prepared to seize this opportunity.
